For 10 years and counting, Zaremba & Company has made dreams become reality, crafting outdoor areas into retreats of living art.

Successful landscape design is a collaboration of artistic vision and a client's dream, says Patrick Zaremba, founder of Zaremba & Company.

“My passion is to design beautiful spaces that create a sense of inner peace to which you are naturally drawn; a place [where] you can retreat — and even escape,” Zaremba says. “Not everybody has the ability to create this type of setting. We work hard to put a piece of this into each and every one of our designs, no matter what the budget. I guide the design, defining it and refining it throughout the process, much like a sculptor creating his masterpiece.”

With more than 500 residential landscaping and garden projects completed throughout south-east and northwest Michigan, Zaremba & Company can fulfill any client's vision — whether it's a $15,000 small urban renovation or a $1 million-plus master planned estate, or anything in between. Zaremba & Company has a reputation for transforming properties into extraordinary works of living art. Attention to detail is important to Zaremba & Company, and building long-term relationships is a commitment Patrick Zaremba and his staff are proud to make.

“I'm leaving a legacy of beautiful gardens that will endure,” Zaremba says. “By design and with basic maintenance, they'll just become more beautiful in time.”
